For example, Sarah was instrumental in programming and planning the new mental health facility in Texas and her ability to understand the client needs and necessary adjacencies was incredible. Her communication skills with the client were exceptional and was able to command their attention at lengthy design meetings, all of which led to a successful collaboration."

"I had the pleasure of working with Sarah during the design and construction of the UT Health John S. Dunn Behavioral Sciences Center in Houston, TX. She was the Project Architect for the Buildout scope of work. Throughout this project, I was serving as the Chief Operating Officer of the UTHealth Houston Behavioral Sciences Campus and was the owners primary point person for the design and construction of this new facility that came in on time and under budget. This was the 4th major hospital construction project that I have been involved with and I can say with certainty that not only did Sarah do an excellent job but that she was also easy to work with which helped contribute to an excellent working relationship between all of the project team members."
